TRIBUTES

Jeneece Edroff

D. Cubberley: Mr. Speaker, today it's my great privilege to acknowledge the outstanding achievements of a young constituent of mine – twelve-year-old Jeneece Edroff.

Jeneece has the misfortune to suffer from a rare genetic disease called neurofibromatosis. Diagnosed at age three, at five, she underwent surgery to straighten her spine. Her parents were told she'd never walk again, but Jeneece rebounded within months.

It takes an amazing person to face real adversity so young and to remain so positive and engaged with life. Her mom, Angie, says of her, "she was a fighter right from the beginning."
